The 1971 Circle

is dedicated to

Mrs. Annie Gray

You say

be as I . . .

I say

I am me . . .

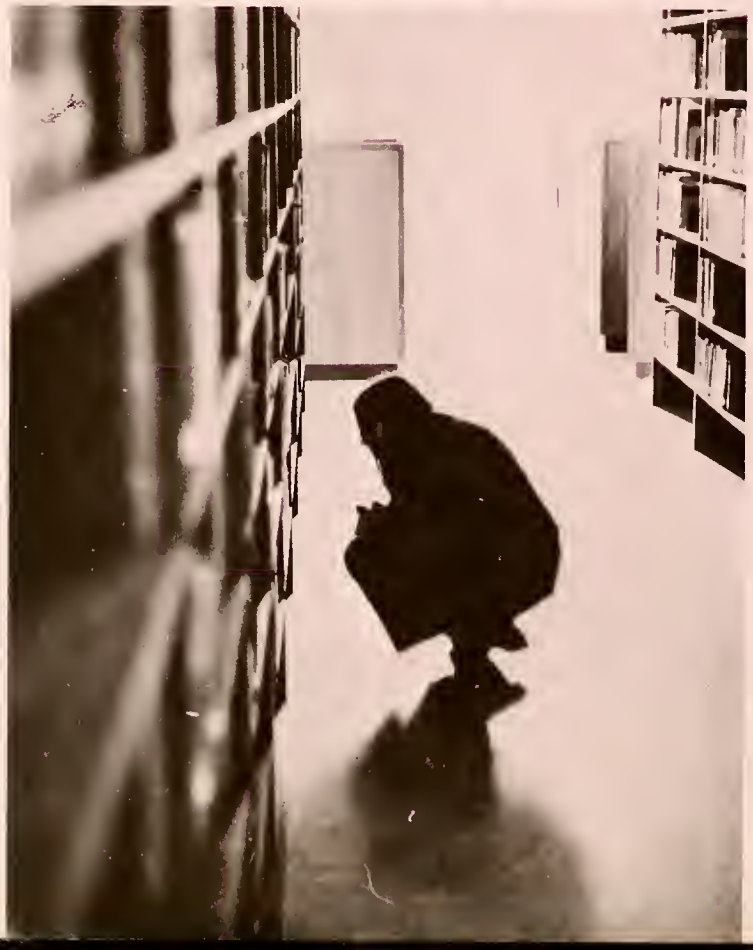
There are so many changes going on

I aspire to be a part of it all

And yet I know I must be myself.

Silent

thoughts . . .



. . . came

tripping

across

my mind

And I thought to myself of all that I had learned and of all that I had yet to know and I wondered if I would make it.

89

Coming

together

Growing

apart

FIJI

Eons of time slung across the universe and we are such a small part of it. But there are times when we can stand in the wind and be a part of something really big together.

The Time Is Now

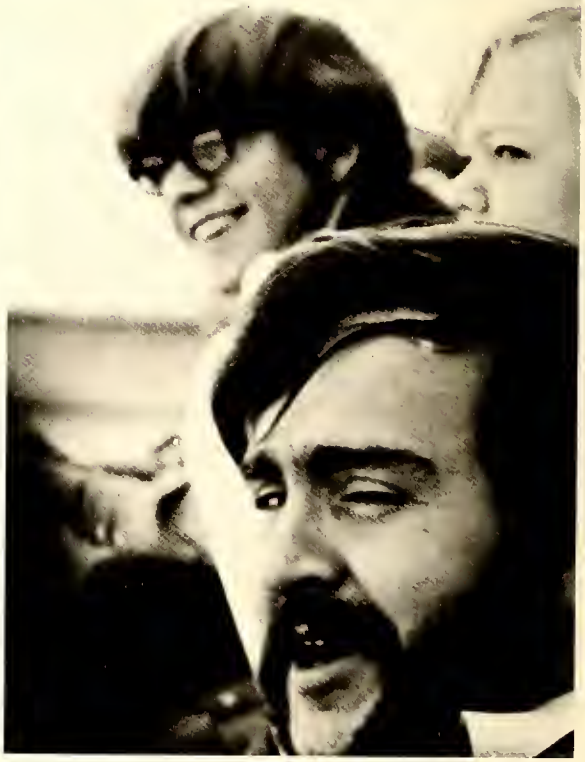
For everything there is a time
A time of hello
A time of goodbye
A time of silence
A time of remembering the past
And a time of planning the future.



Everyday brings something new.
And slowly the pieces begin to fit together.
We are the past,
the children of the future.
Each unique
in his own special way.

Growing up on the outside,
Expanding from within.
The future is a brand new day
And all we can hope for
Is a beautiful tomorrow,
Built from our hopes, our dreams,
Our great expectations.

NAA CHAMPS

Families of friends move on,
but the relations never die.
Passing people you once knew
on busy street corners,
you smile
and then walk on by.

And then there were exams. The semester was over. You said good-bye to your friends, and you missed some and never did say good-bye to them. It was another year on the Circle.

Remembering back to those good times that were once the present and are now the past---
but they were good times,
happy times, so there's regret.
Think of all the tomorrows
to come.

How do you say goodbye to someone who was alive and real and beautiful inside ?
I don't like the word goodbye or the meaning it conveys or the feeling of total desertion it brings.
There's too much sorrow in the word goodbye.

How do you say goodbye
to dreams shared, memories harvested,
to friendship built on trust
and human dignity; to all the good times we ever knew.

There's only one regret
in the back of my mind:
I'm sorry that I didn't take the time to get to know you better.

You radiated love like the warmth of the sun,
happiness
like a child with a new-found friend.
And complete trust
in everything that anybody did.
You were my friend.

But now you're gone and yet you're there in the shadows of my mind.
I see you standing in the hall
or turning to say hello
as you walk down the street.
I see you in the quiet times
or in the peacefulness of a sunlit day.

I sense your concern for those you had to leave so suddenly and yet you're there always because you left so much of you behind.

Ric DeVoe

Peace

In Memory

of

Sue Nicholar

Once again we look upon our memories where we find the laughter and sadness, the moments of a time gone by inscribed on our heart in golden letters.

The swift and fleeting hours travel endlessly into eons, waiting there for no one and so again we will soon bid goodbye. The reflections we carry with us will soon mold into abstractions.

Here in the covers of this book, we hopefully have captured from our passing days some concrete images of the past. These are lasting keepsakes, though time may wither and even discolor the pages. Through the many experiences and personalities we have come to know, we have discovered life's most precious jewels, each other.

Thanks to Mrs. Catherine Cline, Mrs. Jane Chilton, and Mr. Don Spencer for their assistance in planning this yearbook.

I take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude to the members of the yearbook staff for the completion of the 1971 Circle.

Gary Lackey, Editor
